"CENTENNIAL / BASEBALL SERIES: (GENERAL)

One of the outstanding sports events in the history of Alaska will take place in June of Alaska's Centennial year, when the World Amateur Champion Kumagai-Gumi baseball team from Tokyo, Japan and the nationally ranked Alaska Goldpanners clash in an eight game series in Fairbanks and Anchorage.

Sponsored by Kumagai-Gumi Co., Ltd., one of the leading construction companies in Japan, the World Amateur Champions from the "Land of the Rising Sun" will meet the squad from the "Land of the Midnight Sun" in an eight game series opening at 2:30PM on Sunday, June 18th in Fairbanks. The Sunday opener will be followed by evening games scheduled to get underway at 7:30PM on June 19th and 20th. Highlight of the four game Fairbanks series will be the 63rd ANNUAL MIDNIGHT SUN GAME on June 21st. Commencing at 10:30PM this "one of a kind" baseball game will see JAPAN and ALASKA battle under the MIDNIGHT SUN, (without the aid of artificial lights) past the hour of midnight and into the early morning hours of June 22nd.

Governor Walter J. Hickel will proclaim June 21st as ALASKA-JAPAN DAY throughout the state, and will highlight the "longest day" classic by throwing out the first ball. Additional pre-game events will include native dances, Eskimo blanket tosses, and entertainment in the Gay Nineties tradition by members of the ALASKA 67 CENTENNIAL ASSOCIATION OF THE ARTS.

"CENTENNIAL 67 BASEBALL SERIES: (contd.)

At the stroke of MIDNIGHT the game will be halted, and Nancy Wellman, Miss Alaska 1966 will sing the Alaska Flag Song to the accompaniment of the 9th Army Band from Ft. Wainwright. This will be immediately followed by the Japanese National Anthem. As the strains of the Alaska Flag Song and the Japanese National Anthem mark this Centennial milestone in the history of Alaska, a gigantic fireworks display will join the Arctic Midnight Sun in illuminating the skies of this farthest north outpost of international baseball.

Following the "Midnight Sun Classic" the squads will enjoy an off day prior to heading South to resume the battle in Anchorage, Alaska's largest city. Scheduled to arrive in the Knik Arm city on Alaska Airlines Golden Nugget 727 the morning of June 23rd, the two squads will be greeted with another Alaska welcome as the city of Anchorage turns out in parade fashion to greet the internationally recognized teams. Following a days sightseeing in the Anchorage area the two squads will get back to the battle of the Pacific Rim as they open in a 7:30PM game Saturday, June 24th at Mulcahy Park. The second of the four game series will feature a Sunday afternoon game at 2:30PM the 25th, and will wind up with single games at 7:30PM on June 26th and 27th.

PREVIOUS MEETINGS OF THESE TWO TEAMS:

In August of 1966 the 1st WORLD AMATEUR BASEBALL TOURNAMENT recognized on the International level was held in Honolulu, Hawaii. The tournament consisted of two phases. The Hawaiian Invitational Tournament, and the World Amateur Tournament. The Hawaiian Invitational phase consisted of the Hawaii Civilian All Star Team and the Armed Forces Pacific All Star Team. In the World Amateur Tournament teams from the Republic of Korea, Republic of the Phillippines, Japan and the United States were represented.

Japan won the World Amateur Tournament by defeating the Phillippines. Korea and the United States in three successive games. Alaska won the Hawaiian Invitational by defeating Hawaii, and the Armed Forces Pacific in two straight.

Alaska and Japan then met in the finals of a special World Invitational series with Alaska handing Japan two successive defeats to win the overall Invitational series.

During this series, warm friendships were established between the members of the Japanese delegation and Goldpanner Manager, H. A. "Red" Boucher, as well as members of the Japan and Alaska teams. From this series emerged the initial invitation for Japan to participate in a series in Alaska celebrating the "Centennial Year" of 1967.

Following a meeting of the Board of Directors of Kamagai-Gumi Co., Ltd., and the Japan Sakaijin Baseball Assn. a decision was reached to send a 25 man party to Alaska for this series.

SUMMARY OF JAPAN-ALASKA IN HAWAII:

In the opening game Tom House (USC Frosh) who had previously beaten the Hawaiian All Stars was picked to go against Hiromichi Kiyosawa, right hander from the Nippon Iron Pipe Co. House proceeded to upset the dope sheet as he held the Nippon Squad to four scattered hits while the Alaska team posted five runs on six hits to hand the World Tourney champions their first defeat 5-0.

In the second game of the best two out of three series, Manager, "Red" Boucher of the Goldpanners, selected fireballer Mike Adamson (USC Frosh) to oppose Yasuo Fujitsu (previous winner in World Tourney) of Japan. Adamson pulled a back muscle in the first inning and gave way to Don Rose (Stanford Frosh.) Alaska scored two in their half of the sixth, and Fujitsu was replaced by Japan's sensational 18 year old righthander, Masaji Hiramatsu, who has received sizeable bonus offers from Japanese professional baseball. The Alaska squad jumped on Hiramatsu for two hits and two runs in their half of the seventh to take a 4-0 lead. Japan came back with two in the eighth on a base on balls to Edamatsu and a round tripper by leftfielder Hiroaki Inoue. Rose tired in the ninth when he walked the first batter to face him and lefthander Bill Lee made his second relief appearance of the series. Lee (USC soph.) set the Nippon squad down in order and gave the Alaska squad a clean sweep on the special two game series.

BACKGROUND ALASKA GOLDPANNERS:

GOLDPANNERS WHO HAVE ADVANCED TO PROFESSIONAL BASEBALL:

The Goldpanner program is part of the NCAA Summer Baseball Program, and draws on the finest young talent in college baseball to make up their roster. Over 47 team and individual awards have been bestowed on the team in National and International competition, by far the greatest number ever awarded to any team in the history of Non-Professional competition.

The average age of the team is  $19\frac{1}{2}$  and the average tenure of a college player on the Goldpanner roster is  $1\frac{1}{2}$  years before they are signed by professional baseball. Bonuses in excess of \$900,000.00 have been paid to former Goldpanners who have signed professional contracts. Rick Monday, centerfielder for the 1964 Goldpanners, and now with the Kansas City Athletics was signed for \$104,000.00 in the first Major League draft in 1965. Former Goldpanners are now swelling the ranks of professional baseball. Dave Dowling (Cubs) Rick Monday (Athletics) and recently Tom Seaver (Mets) have reached the Majors, with numerous others having advanced to AAA and AA classifications.

KUMAGAI-GUMI, JAPAN WORLD AMATEUR CHAMPIONS:

Kumagai-Gumi Company, Ltd. one of the leading construction companies in Japan, organized its baseball club in 1948.

During the past 18 years, the team affiliated with the Japan Shakaijin Baseball Association won the National Championship three times in 1957, 1960 and 1966. The construction company team, whose players are former college players also captured the World Baseball Title in 1957 when they took part in the 3rd Global World Series held in Detroit, Michigan. Average age of the team is 24. In 1966 at the 1st World Amateur Tournament in Honolulu, Hawaii, Japan annexed the 1st World Amateur Championship by defeating the Philippines, Korea and the United States in three successive games.

Founded in 1902, the Kumagai-Gumi Construction Company has been active in many fields of construction. Japan's famous Sakuma Dam, Akiha Dam, Kuroke Dam as well as Tokyo's highways, subways, and Olympic facilities owe much to this firm. It was the Board of Directors of Kumagai-Gumi that authorized the expenditure for travel of the 20 man team and 5 man delegation to Alaska to participate in the CENTENNIAL 67 BASEBALL SERIES.
